Hexagon Europe Becomes Exclusive Representative and Distributor of the CorrosionX® Product Line in Greece, Cyprus, Albania, Northern Macedonia and Bulgaria

Athens – Hexagon Europe announces that it has taken on the exclusive representation and distribution of the CorrosionX® product line in Greece, Cyprus, Albania, Northern Macedonia and Bulgaria, in cooperation with the European distributors of Corrosion Technologies.

The new partnership expands the Hexagon Europe portfolio, which until now has served mainly the marine and industrial sectors. With the addition of CorrosionX®, the company now also addresses the aviation industry, the automotive maintenance sector, offering protection and lubrication solutions for demanding applications.

CorrosionX® is a high-specification product line originally developed for aviation and military use. It prevents rust and corrosion, lubricates, frees seized metal parts and waterproofs electronics, even under extreme operating conditions.

The range includes:

• CorrosionX®, CorrosionX® XD, CorrosionX® HD and CorrosionX® Aviation: Protection against corrosion, protection of all electric and electronic devices and panels and lubrication.

• SpeedX: precision lubricant for chains, gears and bearings.

• ReelX: lubricant and protectant for fishing reels, particularly in marine environments.

• RejeX: polymer sealant for paintwork and gel-coats.

• Rust Remover: acid-free, solvent-free rust remover.

• Xtreme Clean: biodegradable concentrated all-purpose cleaner and degreaser.

The products are packaged in accordance with applicable UK and European legislation.

“The addition of CorrosionX® to our portfolio is an important step for Hexagon Europe. Alongside the marine and industrial sectors, we can now offer solutions for the aviation industry and for maintenance. Through this partnership, we provide our customers in Greece, Cyprus, Albania, Northern Macedonia and Bulgaria with products of proven effectiveness for protecting their equipment,” commented the CEO of Hexagon Europe.
